Weighing, sampling and reconditioning services are provided by the independent quality experts at the Marcel S. Garrigues Company. If not already provided, rates can be acquired by contacting them at 415.421.0371 or at msg@msgarrigues.com.

Notification of arriving containers must be received at least 3 business days in advance of arrival at port, and preferably at least 2 weeks prior to ETA. Shipments arriving from other domestic locations must also have delivery appointments made 3 business days in advance. Same-day and prior day requests will be accommodated whenever possible.

EBL is not responsible for demurrage, dwell, per diem, standby, dry run, bobtail or any other fees resulting from port or vessel congestion, excessive volume spikes or any other supply chain delays beyond our control.

EBL is not responsible for any damages to tendered, stored or handled goods unless the damage was due to our failure to exercise such care as a "reasonably prudent" person would be expected to provide under the circumstances.

All outbound orders, including in-store releases and delivery requests, must be received no later than 10:00am to ship, deliver or pick up the following day. Goods will not be released until a binding legal document is provided to us that clearly identifies the items being sold or transferred.

If you have questions or need additional information, please contact the warehouse manager.

All charges for services rendered will be billed to the seller if the buyer does not have an account established or have a past due account with EBL. While EBL intends to hold rates steady throughout 2025, rates are subject to change without notice based on market conditions.

Payment for invoices is due no later than thirty days from the issue date of the invoice. We may place a hold on further shipments of cargo until all invoices are brought up to date.

Payments are to be drawn on U.S. banks. ACH and EFT payments are welcomed, with all bank service fees paid by the payor.
