Hi The Way Home Shop team,

I'm reaching out from Agroverse, where we specialize in ceremonial cacao with direct farm traceability, crafted for meaningful retail experiences. I came across your store in SE Portland and noticed your focus on metaphysical and holistic products like crystals, anointing oils, and spiritual decor. I believe our cacao could resonate beautifully with your community.

We partner with independent retailers like yours, understanding that every shop has unique needs. Whether you prefer consignment to test the waters with minimal risk or a bulk wholesale purchase for better margins, we're happy to work with what suits your shelf and vision. I've attached a wholesale price list PDF with our full range of SKUs and pricing tiers for your review.

I'd love to hear how you typically bring in new products or what you're looking for in a partnership.

Could you reply with your thoughts on consignment versus a bulk order, or any questions about our cacao? If a quick call works better, just let me know a time that's convenient for you.

Looking forward to connecting and exploring how Agroverse can support The Way Home Shop.

Gary

Hi, Gary!

Thank you for reaching out!

I have attached the Vendor Guidelines. The split is 30%/70% (me/you) and you decide on the price.

Please review the options and let me know if you would like to chat about doing business together.

Good morning Gergana,

The vendor guidelines works perfect. The retail price for our ceremonial cacao is $25, please keep $7.50 for each sale.

Our Venmo is @garyjob

Shall I have make arrangements to have 10 bags delivered over to your venue?

Thank you for supporting our efforts to restore our Amazon rainforest 🙏🏽

This is an in-depth Instagram reel of what the whole project is about
