When I login to the dashboard it says my account is not subscribed to any subscription.

Also doesnt seem like its allowing me to upgrade my subscription via my credit card

Hey there, thanks for reaching out!

Your ticket number is T-C550 for your reference.

Your payment attempts have been declined by your card issuer. Here are some steps to resolve this:

1. Double-check your card details - Make sure all information is entered correctly
2. Contact your bank - They may be blocking the transaction and can authorize it
3. Try a different payment method - We accept Google Pay, Apple Pay, Cash App, and other cards
4. Wait 24 hours - If you've had multiple failed attempts, waiting can help reset any temporary blocks
5. Try a different browser - Sometimes clearing your browser cache or using a different browser helps

Important: Only attempt one subscription purchase at a time to avoid conflicts.

You can update your payment method at <https://cursor.com/dashboard?tab=billing>.

Let me know if you need anything else!

Best,

Sam

Why is my existing subscription not showing up?

Its saying I am a free user when I am paying for subscription...

Looking at your billing history, you don't currently have an active paid subscription. All your payment attempts have been declined by your card issuer, which is why your account shows as Free.

You've tried to purchase a subscription several times (most recently today), but each payment was declined. This is why you're seeing the Free status and upgrade options in your dashboard.

To successfully subscribe, you'll need to resolve the payment issue:

1. Contact your bank - They're declining the transaction and can authorize it
2. Try a different payment method - Use Google Pay, Apple Pay, Cash App, or a different card
3. Verify card details - Make sure all information is entered correctly
4. Wait 24 hours - Multiple failed attempts can trigger temporary blocks

Once a payment goes through successfully, your subscription will activate immediately.

Let me know if you need anything else!

Best,

Sam
